I need to find a home! And PLEASE don't say that does not matter right now. It's EVERYTHING!

Makes zero sense to Airbnb one month that's like two rental payments.

Now I can go stand in line at those EDD places for food stamps and have them collect child support ?
That's what they offered to do last time I spoke with them. Another is temporary housing. I've already signed up for that but that may take months they said
