Dear Eric,

There is no reason for me to lie about calling you — for whatever reason, I haven't been able to get through.

Anyway, I didn't see the December email because it went to my "junk" folder. Apparently, the funds you were expecting should have been deposited by now. May I expect payment for December and January by January 20?

Please call me if you'd like to discuss.

Mr. Kearney,

I received your note. Regarding the communication issues, my carrier logs are definitive, but I accept that your system may have misrouted the previous correspondence to your junk folder.

Regarding the January 20 date: As noted in my December 16 update, the delay is tied to the final clearance of a substantial legal settlement. The wire transfer protocols are still processing. I will provide a definitive status update on the funds in the coming weeks.

In the interim, please provide a copy of the Certificate of Occupancy for the unit at 5634 Noel Drive, as I need to verify the permitted status of the dwelling for my records.
