EXHIBIT 10: CHATSWORTH CONFLICT DISCLOSURE - NOVEMBER 17, 2025

Source: Contemporaneous detailed meeting notes Event: Initial consultation between Nuha Sayegh and Sara Memari (H Bui Law Firm) Date: November 17, 2025

EXTRACTED QUOTE - SARA MEMARI (at approx. 9:29 minutes):

"I think he's gonna appear remotely. And just so you know, because I already had a hearing that I'm supposed to appear in Chatsworth for in person, so as to, unfortunately, appear remotely, our hearing, if you want to appear remotely too, so you don't have to go there and put in person, I can set that up."

SIGNIFICANCE:

Two days before Nuha's November 19, 2025 DVRO/custody hearing in Pasadena: - Sara disclosed she had a CONFLICTING in-person hearing in Chatsworth - Sara proactively steered Nuha toward remote appearance - This forced remote configuration directly contributed to: * Nuha being unable to testify live (no prior court authorization for remote) * Sara appearing late to Nuha's 8:30 AM hearing * Client's due process rights being subordinated to attorney's convenience

PATTERN ESTABLISHED (3 CONSECUTIVE DAYS):

Nov 17: Sara discloses Chatsworth conflict during consultation (this exhibit) Nov 18: Sara emails "I'm in court this morning in Chatsworth" (see EXHIBIT_8) Nov 19: Sara emails "finish my hearing in Chatsworth first" at 8:47 AM (see EXHIBIT_9) Nuha's hearing: 8:30 AM in Pasadena

RULE VIOLATION:

California Rules of Professional Conduct Rule 1.7 - Conflict of Interest Attorney scheduled conflicting matters knowing she could not adequately represent client at both hearings. Client's contested custody/DVRO hearing was treated as secondary to attorney's Chatsworth schedule.
