From: Sara Memari sara@hbuilaw.com To: Nuha Sayegh nuha@recovery-compass.org CC: Valerie Arebalo, Xiaoye (Melody) Zhou Date: Wednesday, November 19, 2025 at 8:47 AM Subject: Re: LA COURT CONNECT

Ok, perfect.

The Court is going to call us closer to 10am, so I can finish my hearing in Chatsworth first. But stay logged on.

CONTEXT: - Nuha's hearing was SCHEDULED for 8:30 AM - This email was sent at 8:47 AM (17 minutes AFTER scheduled start) - Login instructions were sent at 8:39 AM (9 minutes late) - Sara admits she is prioritizing her Chatsworth hearing over client's case

TIMELINE: 8:30 AM - Nuha's hearing scheduled to begin 8:39 AM - Login sent (too late) 8:46 AM - Nuha confirms "I'm in! Just waiting" 8:47 AM - Sara says she'll "finish Chatsworth first" ~10:00 AM - Sara finally available, but damage done

SIGNIFICANCE: This proves Sara Memari deliberately scheduled conflicting hearings and prioritized her Chatsworth case over Nuha's critical custody/support hearing. The late login wasn't an accident - it was because Sara was busy elsewhere.

This violates: - Rule 1.3 (Diligence) - Failed to prioritize client's matter - Rule 1.4 (Communication) - Failed to disclose scheduling conflict would delay hearing - Rule 1.7 (Conflict of Interest) - Attorney's convenience vs. client's needs

Result: Nuha lost exclusive use of family home and received reduced support because her attorney was unavailable at the scheduled hearing time.
