Ms Sayegh:

There is absolutely NO communication from me to you about refunding the full 7500. There is NO reason my office would work for free for any reason. You will receive a closing billing statement when we have processed the withdrawal and prepared your electronic file to hand off to you.

I terminated representation based on your email on Friday. Despite you coming to my office to show me that your friend is the one that sent the email and you did not authorize it, which caused our office to terminate our representation of you. You requested that this firm remain on the case and I informed you that my office will NOT be doing so. I however informed you that I will have my receptionist provide you with names for pro bono or low cost firms that worked with DV victims that you can reach out to. I believe when you left my assistant Valerie provided you with that information.

You did inform me about your ex providing pills to your 13 year old daughter. I advised you to contact the police and conduct a welfare check if you were concerned and that you can file paperwork as needed with the court if you feel it is unsafe for your daughter to be with her father.

Again, I wish you well with your case as you continue to move forward from the abusive relationship.

 We have moved! Please note our new address. ****

Dear Ms. Bui,

Thank you for your response.

My statement regarding the $7,500 refund is entirely correct based on your explicit verbal assurance during our in-person meeting yesterday,

November 24, 2025. You unequivocally stated that H. Bui Law would absolutely refund the $7,500 retainer to Mr. Eric Jones, not merely an "unused amount." This direct verbal commitment, made by you as the principal attorney, is what I sought to memorialize immediately.

Furthermore, during that same meeting yesterday, I provided you with critical new information regarding Freddy Sayegh's recent conduct involving Mia, specifically his offer of drugs to her. This constitutes significant evidence that profoundly impacts the case, particularly concerning child custody and the children's welfare.

Given this serious new information and your explicit verbal commitment, I expect the full $7,500 refund to be processed immediately. If you intend to deviate from your clear verbal promise and claim entitlement to payment for work done, I demand a full, detailed, and itemized billing statement covering all activities and hours claimed, with supporting documentation, by the end of today, November 25, 2025.

Your firm's awareness of this critical evidence concerning Mia, immediately prior to processing a substitution of attorney, obligates a clear and ethical path forward.

I reiterate my request for immediate written confirmation of:

1. That the full $7,500 refund to Mr. Eric Jones is being processed.
2. The exact expected date of the transaction.

I anticipate your prompt attention and a resolution that honors your verbal commitment and addresses the grave new information presented.

Sincerely,

Nuha Sayegh

I did NOT state that the entire 7500 would be refunded because work was done in your case and we are entitled to receive payments for our time.

Dear Ms. Bui,

I am writing to memorialize our in-person meeting held yesterday, November 24, 2025, regarding my case (Sayegh vs. Sayegh) and the status of the legal fees paid by my third-party payor, Mr. Eric Jones.

1. Confirmation of Refund Agreement
During our meeting, you explicitly confirmed to me verbally that H. Bui Law will absolutely refund the $7,500 retainer paid by Mr. Eric Jones. I am writing to formally confirm this agreement in writing.

As you know, Mr. Jones is currently facing significant financial constraints. Your assurance of this refund is critical for us to move forward effectively.

2. Clarification of Representation Status
I understand that a termination notice may have been generated following my previous email correspondence. Please consider this email a clarification: my priority is ensuring the refund to Mr. Jones is processed immediately as agreed. If the termination notice was an automated response to the previous thread, let us resolve that administratively, but it should not delay the refund process you promised yesterday.

3. Next Steps
Please reply to this email confirming:
1. That the $7,500 refund to Mr. Eric Jones is being processed.
2. The expected date of the transaction.

Thank you for your professional courtesy during our meeting and for resolving this financial matter promptly.

Sincerely,

Nuha Sayegh
