Good afternoon,

I am in receipt of your e-mail, dated December 28, 2025, indicating that three (3) Motions have been filed in December. In reviewing the Court Case Information online, it appears that something was filed by you on 12/16/2025. However, I have not been served with that document. I have not been served with an R.F.O. in proper form and do not know what relief is being requested. The only thing I was served with on December 15, 2025, was a Supplemental Memorandum of Grounds for Receiver, but I do not know what it was "Supplemental" to and "Declaration" of Nuha Sayegh & Exhibits A-B. This was not a Declaration but some attached Exhibits.

As I have not been properly served with an R.F.O., I do not intend on filing a Response. Even if a proper R.F.O. had been served on that date, it would not have been timely, considering the rules for service of an R.F.O. and all of the holiday dates in between.

I would be happy to meet to discuss a global resolution of the case. Please contact my office on Monday, January 5, 2026, to arrange a three (3) way meeting or just a meeting between you and I at my office.

I look forward to discussing resolution of the case with you and wish you a happy New Year.

Mr. Quinones,

This correspondence serves as a formal update regarding the Sayegh v. Sayegh matter and upcoming proceedings.

1. Recent Filings: Please be advised that three (3) additional motions have been executed and filed with the court this month.

2. Dissolution & Financial Conduct: We are finalizing the amended filings regarding Dissolution of Marriage, which specifically address the discrepancies in Mr. Sayegh's financial declarations and the documented evidence of fraud previously communicated.

Notice Regarding January 6, 2026 Hearing:

We intend to present a comprehensive overview of the case at the upcoming hearing on January 6, 2026. This presentation will arguably include sensitive personal matters and "undisclosed lifestyle factors" that directly correlate with the psychological profile and behavioral patterns observed in this case.

While it is our preference to handle such sensitive family matters with discretion, the current posture of your client necessitates a full and truthful disclosure to the Court to ensure the safety and well-being of all parties. We will be presenting this evidence ethically, but without reservation.

We remain open to a global resolution prior to the January 6th hearing to avoid unnecessary public exposure of these sensitive private matters.

Governed by California Code of Civil Procedure.

Sincerely,
Nuha Sayegh

Mr. Quinones,

I am in receipt of your correspondence dated December 30. We decline the request to continue the January 6, 2026, hearing. All documents were served in strict compliance with the Code of Civil Procedure; the Proof of Service has been executed and filed.

I. MATERIAL DISCREPANCIES IN SWORN FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Your client provided the Court with a sworn declaration of indigency on November 19 to secure a reduced support order of $162/month.
However, verified banking records confirm two critical contradictions:

1. Undisclosed Retainer: Within 96 hours of claiming indigency, your client executed an $11,000.00 cash payment to your firm.

2. Income Discrepancy: Bank records document $191,000.00 in deposits over the relevant period, directly contradicting your client's sworn Income and Expense Declaration (FL-150) stating $8,000.00/month.

II. OBLIGATIONS UNDER RULES OF PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

Proceeding to the January 6 hearing with these declarations uncorrected constitutes "Fraud on the Court." Under California Rule of Professional Conduct 3.3 (Candor Toward the Tribunal), a lawyer shall not offer evidence that the lawyer knows to be false.

We possess the Zelle timestamps and bank records verifying the figures cited above. As of this notice, you are now in possession of information establishing the material falsity of the November 19 declaration.

III. PROPOSED CURE

To resolve this without the need for formal sanctions or regulatory referrals, we propose the following:

If your client is not prepared to stipulate to a global resolution that accurately reflects this financial reality by Monday, January 5, at 10:00 AM, we will be forced to:

1. Present this evidentiary package to the Court to impeach the prior declarations; and
2. Initiate necessary referrals to the IRS and State Bar regarding the tax evasion and commingling of funds evidenced by these records.

If these disclosures create a mandatory conflict under CRPC Rule 1.16, I will accept a Notice of Withdrawal as a cure to facilitate your exit from the matter.

Govern yourself accordingly.

Mr. Quiñones:

1. CONFIRMATION OF VACATED HEARING (JAN 6)

I have independently verified via the Los Angeles Superior Court Docket that the Request for Order hearing scheduled for January 6, 2026, has been vacated and removed from the calendar. I am in receipt of your Notice of Withdrawal filed January 2.
We will proceed accordingly for the next scheduled appearance on January 14, 2026 (Consolidated Hearing). I will not be appearing on Tuesday.

2. REGARDING THIRD-PARTY ADVOCACY

I deny your allegations regarding "Eric J." Mr. Jones is a degreed Social Worker (MSW), independent Mandated Reporter, and Domestic Violence Advocate.

I do not control, direct, or censor his independent professional audits, public statements, or reporting obligations.

Any grievances you have regarding his findings or reviews should be directed to him personally or his organization. Attempting to attribute the independent actions of a third-party advocate to me as a basis for sanctions is legally baseless and will be vigorously opposed.

3. FINANCIAL DISCLOSURES

I note your admission that you are still waiting for financial information from your client. This confirms that previous declarations were filed without complete data. We look forward to receiving your client's accurate, verified Income and Expense Declaration (FL-150) prior to the January 14 hearing.

4. COMMUNICATION PROTOCOL

Although your correspondence was received after business hours on Friday (6:28 PM), I am respecting your request regarding weekend communication and have scheduled this response for delivery on Monday morning.

Please be advised that according to the Los Angeles Superior Court Case Information website, the only thing scheduled for January 6, 2026 is Mr. Sayegh's Request for Order/Motion for Reconsideration of the Court's ruling on the Restraining Order. Mr. Sayegh is not s seeking a continuance but has decided to withdraw his R.F.O./Motion.

I believe this individual is connected to you and has done this on your behalf in an attempt to influence me and the proceedings in this case. I intend to investigate Eric J. and his connection to you and this case. Please advise Mr. Eric J. that his false and misleading statements are actionable as Libel, Tortuous Interference, Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress and other causes of action under California law. The longer this "Review" is displayed on Yelp, the greater the monetary damages will be. I will be making the Court aware of the bad faith and malicious tactics you have chosen to employ against me in these proceedings, and I intend on responding with the necessary legal action.

Let this e-mail serve as a Meet and Confer regarding my intention to request Sanctions under California Family Code, Section 271 and California Code of Civil Procedure, Section 128.5 as a result of the above described conduct.

In the future, do not e-mail me or attempt to contact me on weekends or holidays as I do not check my e-mails on those dates.
